The Story of LCNS

Lakefield Co-operative Nursery School was founded in 1973 by a group of parents who were interested in providing an enriching pre-school experience for their children. As a co-operative, the school relies on the participation of parents to supervise the children (1 morning/month), raise funds, and to contribute their talents in other ways, for example, serving on the board of directors.

The Benefits of Attending LCNS:
lasting friendships for parents, guardians and children smoother transition between home and school for the whole family stimulating program, tailored to the age and ability of each student enriching mornings of free play, structured learning activities, craft, stories, songs, and time outdoors fully equipped classroom; safe outdoor playground & qualified staff with extensive experience in the field of Early Childhood Education.

Benefiting from the contributions of every family involved, a co-operative approach to education results in a top-quality preschool program that enriches the lives of those families, as well as the community.

“Everyday, my child asks, ‘is it a school day, today?’ She is proud to show me her craft projects, and sings the circle-time songs at home.”
